

Maria Bonita Loureiro Vinho Verde DOC 2018

Date tasted: 10 October 2019

Granite soils. TA 6.7 g/l, pH 3.05.

This is more spicy than I expected as I usually find Loureiro more scented. It's very delicate, a hint of citrus and green fruits, perhaps even very slightly reductive in a smoky or stone-dust way, but very slight. Light but persistent. Excellent freshness, light bodied but not thin, with good length and an underlying stony minerality. Bone dry and refreshing. (JH)
